

Policy on professorships, distinguished professorships, chairs and chair elevations

Policy Type: Local

Responsible Office: Office of Development and Alumni Relations

Initial Policy Approved: 05/2009

Revised Policy Approved: 01/2013

Policy Statement and Purpose

Professorships, distinguished professorships, chairs, deanships and distinguished chairs must be filled within one year of being fully funded. As with all other endowed funds, only the income generated from the corpus can be used for the intended purposes of the donor.

Elevations from professorship to distinguished professorship to chair are permitted if the funding needed to meet the next minimum level required for such a designation is provided through charitable, outright and/or planned gifts and the upgrade is approved by the Board of Visitors. A donor or donors can choose to add to an existing endowment to achieve this elevation. Should such an elevation either change or add to the approved name of the fund, such changes must be reapproved by the Board of Visitors.

When a designation elevation is submitted to the Board of Visitors for approval, the original name on the fund must remain as initially approved by the Board of Visitors.

Designation elevations are highly discouraged if the new minimum balance required is achieved exclusively through the market appreciation of the endowment fund. Exceptions can be made with the approval of the Board of Visitors if the president, dean or unit director deems that such an elevation will help retain or attract a distinguished faculty member.

Definitions

Professorship, distinguished professorship, chair

These are types of endowed funds designated by a donor to support faculty excellence. In almost every instance, this income is used for supplemental salary support for the faculty member or chair holder and might include funding for research, travel, symposia, lectures, programs and other activities as agreed to by the donor and the dean or appropriate official of the school, center or affiliated foundation.
